

COVER: Dillon Prus, displaying the grave marker of his great uncle, is proof that with young people like him around the history of the Korean War will not be forgotten. (See the story on p. 14.)

28

49

52

73

CONTENTS

Business

From the President	3
From the Secretary	7
From the Executive Director	10
Thanks for Supporting The Graybeards and the KWVA	10
Rules of Decorum and Debate	11
Call for Elections	12
Call for Board Meeting and Annual Membership Meeting 2017	13
Official Membership Application Form	71
Application for Korea Revisit & PCFY Tours	78

Features & Articles

In Search of the Chosin.....	14
A treasure trove of stories	15
Where was I on July 27, 1953?	70

Departments

The Editor's Desk	9
Reunion Calendar 2017.....	11
The Poet's Corner	25
Tell America	28
Chapter & Department News	32
Feedback/Return Fire	58
Welcome Aboard	74
Humor in Korea	74
Last Call	75

News & Notes

Military Exchange Online Shopping	13
Another view and clarification of the future of the KWVA....	16
In Memory of 56 KIAs—and Eddie Ko	17
Korean War Veterans Association Reunion: Events	18
Korean War Veterans Association Reunion: Registration ..	20
It's your Choice	21
From 'ditch' to 'rich' – at least in terms of freedom: Korea to the U.S.	22
Paying respect to Piper	24
Korean War MIAs Recently Identified	25
The 2017 KWVA Fundraiser	26
Announcing the 2017 recipients of the AVKF scholarships	30
The Burial of Cpl Robert E. Myers	48
Memorial Day 2017	52
Haben sie eine auskunft herum Herbert Volker?	57
KWVA honored with plaque	73
Hometown Friends Meet at the 38th Parallel	73
A New Movie Documents America's Search for MIAs	75