

Dear, Sir (sir)

Hello, my name is Gisuram Lee and I'm a first grader in Cheongshim International Academy. I just want to say I am very grateful and in awe for your bravery shown at the Korean War. We will never forget your readiness to sacrifice for our freedom and your precious lives lost here. We will always remember you and how you fought for us. I read many books and heard many stories from my grandmother and parents about the Korean War. I learned many people from your country came to fight for our freedom, and we are really thankful for that. A lot of people died in the war and the pain and trauma from the war are still lasting in the U.S.A and even if I've watched many videos and documentaries about the war, I cannot imagine how it would feel to lose somebody I love. Also, my grandfather was one of the soldiers who fought in this war. I think people who fought for our country are afraid that future generations might forget your sacrifices. Your bravery and sacrifices made Korea progress last 60 years. We promise we will never forget your bravery and precious lives lost here. Your bravery will be always remembered even to our descendants. Once again we thank you and we will never forget your sacrifice.

Sincerely Yours
Gisuram Lee from South Korea.
