

To love someone deeply gives you strength.
Being loved by someone deeply gives you courage.

Dear Korean War veteran,

Hello, I'm a girl from South Korea. Today, I started to write a letter to Korean War veterans to describe my thanks for helping us. The Korean War might was very terrible. However, you came to country from far away just to help poor Koreans. I'm deeply impressed of your great heart of sacrificing yourself to help other people. If I were you, I might definitely couldn't do things like you. With this your amazing braveness, I envy you a lot. I know it was a tough decision to go far foreign country with a purpose of helping them. But it is very amazing that you and other veterans had fought really eagerly. So, I really thank again to you, your glorious braveness to help other people. Now, I have a new wish. I hope I can meet you and other veterans and have a deep conversation about the life during the war or something else. I will work hard to visit Korean War veterans. Bye!

2014. 5. 7. Wed.

Sincerely, Jungminlee
