I gave my heart to you,
You are my lovely melody.

Dear Korea War Veterans

Good afternoon. I am Minseo kang, 14-year-old boy, and live in Korea. Yes, it is South Korea that you fought to protect at the risk of your life about 60 years ago.

Although a long time ago, I learned about the Korean war in history class, and know how fierce the battles you had, how many victims and the wounded were left, and how many foreign soldiers fought to protect freedom and peace in this country to die or get injured.

I wonder the Korean war has left you reading this letter what kind of hurts or painful memories.

But, I would like to say that your sacrifice was never pointless.

It is because, due to the sacrifices of you and your comrades, so many people were able to save their lives, new lives were born, grown up, and have been lived in freedom and peace that you tried to keep and fought for.

What is Korea like you remember? Is it the ruins that everything is destroyed by the fierce battles? However, if you now see Korea you will probably be surprised. Looking at the photos that took the scene everything was destroyed, it is hard for me to believe the look of Korea now. So, you are eligible enough to proud of the results your courage and sacrifice made. Once again thank you for your courage and sacrifice.

I promise I will try to be a man like you who listen to the difficulty of my neighbors and help them. Thank you.
