

언제나 행복해

Happiness is not a matter of good fortune or worldly possessions. It's a mental attitude. It comes from appreciating what we have, instead of being miserable about what we don't have.

Hello. My name is Rosie Kim and I'm 13 years old. Near our village, there is a mountain named Soyo mountain and a safeguard museum that our family goes to on good weather.

I can see and study about a lot of information of the Korean war by seeing the pictures and displayed weapons that were used during the war.

A lot of countries sent troops to Korea during the Korean war, but the surprising thing was millions of soldiers that were dispatched from USA. Though the war many people were killed and wounded before it ended but I think the pain still remains. Your country didn't just participated in war, but also supplied lots of help in the influence of our culture, relief works, and medical aid.

With your efforts and sacrifices, I'm feeling very thankful for you for the safe live nowadays though we still have the pain due to the division of our country. Though we all have a deep pain, Korea and USA are still keeping their allied forces together. Korea stood all the pain from the war, made great economic growth and continued in it's efforts for the peace of the world.

I think all of these were by your sacrifice, thank you. Near our village, the US army is still remaining in many locations. Two examples are Camp Casey, and Camp Red Cloud, exchanging in our community.

I hope the friendly relationship between Korea and the USA will continue. I wish the war had never happened, and there were no victims.

And last, I thank you for your sacrifices, and promise to support both USA and Korea by doing what I can do.

I hope you to remember some good memories, not only the memories of the war seeing the pictures that were sent with the letter.

I won't forget your efforts and sacrifices, thank you!

Bye!
