

Dear Sir,

Hello, my name is Yelim Chong, from Seoul, Republic of Korea.

Being part of an organization called "Nanum," I could learn and hear about the veterans who have fought in Korean War and risked their lives for our country, Korea. I was touched when one of the veterans broke down in tears while telling his experience of the war. When another veteran showed his body with lost arm and leg including lots of scars, I could not hide my feeling of shock. 'How could he and all the other warriors have sacrificed themselves for other country, not their country?' It made me sad to realize that most of the veterans who have survived are still suffering from the scars that remind them of the moment during the war all the time.

Since I only have learned the war from media such as texts and videos, I would not be able to measure how much fear and despair the veterans would have experienced during the wartime. However, I know that because the warriors had sacrificed all of the things they had — their families, lovers, and property, we could make our way through all those ruins and create a better country.

I am very grateful to all of your efforts and sacrifices which had made us possible to live with peace and prosperity. Thank you very much! All the Koreans will never forget every one of you and your efforts. We will always remember you and do our best to develop more and more in return for all your help. Also, we will try our best to become a united country as soon as possible, so that no one will be threatened by war anymore. I promise that I will be part of the movement and lead the actions that I can do to make these come true.

Thank you again to all the Great Heroes who have taken part in Korea's History!!

Best regards, Yelim Chong.

These 2 square-shaped patchworks are called "Jogakbo", and they are hand-made by our mother. Please think of them as our gift for Korean War Veterans and kindly accept them! ^^

Jogakbo ♥

Jogakbo is a Korean traditional patchwork.

Based on the Korean ancestors' thriftiness and wisdom, it is made out of extra pieces of cloth.

Beautiful jogakbo is created by sewing the pieces with variety of colors and patterns, and it takes a lot of time and effort.

Therefore, the ancestors kept it carefully as a precious thing.

Jogakbo is also believed to bring luck to families.
